He cannot take it secondhand from the Church, or thirdhand from the State. He must get it at first-hand or not at all. Freedom thus becomes spiritual necessity for man.

MAN'S RIGHT

Judge for himself

AT the Reformation this claim was first made against the Church.

Men found themselves no longer able to accept things on the mere authority of the Church. They demanded the right to judge for themselves. This was only one of the

As time went on, however. there emerged a conception of the Church in which authority lowed from these two plenty, for the greatest tensions and freedom are preserved and struggles. Churchmen may not believe that God wants us to speak, pray, and sing all in the same way, but they no less stoutly believe in the fundamentals of the faith.

There is hardly a single cause of betterment or uplift in the realm of benevolence or reform in which Free Churchmen have not made a full contribution of leadership and support.

There are many such conflicts peculiar to free men. To take but one. The conscientious objector objects to taking part in war, and the State must use its full authority to maintain its * safety.

How is the tension to be relieved? Free Churchmen would say on the one hand that the conscientious objector must not push his claim to the point of endangering the State, and the State, within the limits of safety, must find a place in national service for these men other than in the things of war.

THERE appears to be every likelihood of a blood bath in Palestine as the result of the Jew-Arab dispute. The-record of the lawless Jews makes one of the ugliest pages in history, and those concerned, whether in Palestine or numbered amongst their sympathisers in the United States and elsewhere, are equally culpable. It will be a good day for Britain when she hands over, so unenviable a responsibility to the United Nations.

It scoms to be a toss-up now as to whether the United States will endeavour to maintain law and order, or who her Russia will find an excuse to insinuate her creed and political practices into the Holy Land, as it is so ironically termed.

Influential Jews throughout the world have lost the opportunity they once had of protesting against assessination and murder practised in their own name. It is this aspect which all thinking people deplore so greatly. Seven first division matches to-day; the first round of the Governor's Cup at the Club Ground tomorrow and Hongkong versus Manila at Manila tomorrow. Another busy week-end for local footballers,

There are two "needle" games this afernoon. The Inniskillings (who gave Kitchee such a bad fright last Sunday) entertain the lively South China team at Sookunpoo; while at Causeway, after the Navy and the Artillery have done their stuff, there is a real battle royal in prospect, for Kitchee (league leaders) meet their strongest challengers, the Kowloon Motor Busmen.

H.K. Football Team Flying To Manila Tomorrow

(BY "SEE TEE")

It is a sign of the advanced state of modern travel that a band of Hongkong footballers will board a plane at about seven o'clock tomorrow morning at Kai Tak in order to fulfil a soccer engagement in Manila for the same afternoon. Provided the plane meets no unusual flying conditions, it could be said that this football party is undertaking no very special trip. The air passage should take a little less than four hours - no longer than the train journey from London to the Midlands.

It is most likely that Kitchee will field their strongest eleven for their "needle" match with the Kowloon Motor Busmen this afternoon. A big crowd is expected at the Navy Ground for this very attractive match Another interesting league encounter today is the meeting of St. Josephs and Eastern at Caroline Hill. Eastern are still going great guns, while the Saints, for all their difficulties (not the least of which is the continuing indisposition of B. Gosano) generally manage to field a team which puts up a good fight. Very often it has been anything but a losing fight. In their game with the RAF last Sunday the Saints were unlucky losers. Despite the absence of a player (who had pulled a muscle) throughout the whole of the second half, they ran the redoubtable Airmen to a very close finish.

Norse Queen, Picked To Win Autumn Champions

BY "THE TURF"

The last race meeting of the Hongkong Jockey Club (Twelth Extra Race meeting) for the 1947 season will no doubt draw a large crowd of racegoers to the Valley this afternoon to see the running of the Hongkong Autumn Champions, which is the main event on the card of seven races.

There is always the possibility of favourites being beaten when least expected, but I am inclined to believe that they will dominate results.

Bailey Wants To Run For Britain

(BY HAROLD PALMER)

E. McDonald Balley, West Indian athlete who holds two British sprint titles, wants to run for Great Britain in next year's Olympic games in London, and not for Trinidad.

He considers he is just as much qualified to run for Britain as he is for Trinidad, where he was born, and that the onus of choice should rest on him. He is taking the advice of his father, a member of the Trinidad AAA, and has written to the British Amateur Athletic Board in these terms.

He said outgoing messages had to go through Soviet communications.

Mr Benninghoff said the Russians apparently had instructions to remain aloof from the Americans, and United Press.
